Our group is multi-generational—college age, singles, and couples; children of members are either in high school or college. Prayer and body-life take place in small circles, followed by large group verse-by-verse teaching and insightful discussion.

Bruce Martin Room 212
We are a group seeking to help one another to grow individually in our relationships with God and to grow corporately as we live together in the family of God. Our Sunday morning gatherings are intended to train and equip members for greater faithfulness and increasing fruitfulness. In addition to Sunday morning, we have several small discipleship groups where men gather with men and women with women to cultivate the kind of close relationships necessary for a thriving spiritual life. We are a multi-ethnic and racially diverse group of families with kids ranging in age from preschool to adult.

Mary Slack & Olga Skorackyj Room 171
Our small group is a unique blend of married, single, widowed, and divorced women of varied backgrounds and experiences who God brought together for in-depth study of His Word of Truth. Our class can best be described by comments from the members themselves: "strong feeling of presence of the Holy Spirit," "very caring, compassionate group," "welcoming, friendly, accepting, and tolerant," "free participation in discussion with questions and comments," "awesome fellowship, faithful team-teaching, and strong leadership." We welcome newcomers to visit with us.
